

Our History...

Calabria boasts an ancient tradition in the art of silk processing, introduced by the Byzantine monks between the IX and XI Century, the excellence of silk products was appreciated in courts throughout Europe.

Over the years, the Bossio family has been able to tie Calabrian tradition to modern technologies in the textile field, developing an innovative product that enhances the extraordinary cosmetic and therapeutic properties of silk.

For all the products of the Setiamo line, cocoons, disks and gloves, we use silk and cocoons coming from small Calabrian companies that guarantee the total naturalness of the production process and the extraction of the filament. Only in this way it is possible to maintain all the prodigious properties of sericin, the protein created by the silkworm, Bombyx Mori, during the silk production.

Silk's benefits...

Many scientific studies have demonstrated the healing and cosmetic effects of sericin:

- Powerful anti-aging that can substantially reduce wrinkles and blemishes
- High moisturising capacity thanks to its low molecular power
- Protective and repairing effect thanks to its film-forming and non-occlusive properties

The products of the Setiamo line have a double effect: they combine the exfoliating and smoothing mechanical action of the scrub, with the release of sericin, allowing its extraordinary active ingredients to penetrate deeply into the skin.

Our products...

Raw silk shower glove

Composition: 65% raw silk, 23% linen and 12% cotton.

All the fibres used are pure, totally free of any chemical treatment.

Our glove, recognizable by its original yarn, allows an excellent exfoliating and softening mechanical action and it releases the sericin contained in the raw silk on the exfoliated skin. This substance, produced by the silkworm to weld the fibroin filaments, has been scientifically proven and recognized as a natural protein with extraordinary healing and cosmetic effects on the skin.

Raw silk pad for the face

Composition: 70% raw silk and 30% cotton.

All fibres are pure, totally free of any chemical treatment.

The silk side of the pad, recognizable by its original yarn, allows excellent exfoliating and softening mechanical action and releases the sericin contained in the raw silk on the exfoliated skin.

Silk cocoons

Silk cocoons can be used for facial skin. Each cocoon can be used for up to 3 treatments.
